Abstract

Files are protected against intrusion.  A first embodiment protects certain files against changes.  A second embodiment encrypts the files that are stored using 5   user's personal information.